Daybreak in Detention

In the Detention Cage
All Day outside the Fremantle Markets from 6am to 5pm

Daybreak in Detention is an event, taking place all over the country on the weekend of June 19-20, aimed at defending the human rights of refugees. In some places Daybreak in Detention will be an overnight sleep-over at a 'mock' Immigration Detention Centre in a community hall, at others it will be a get together of school students at a friend's house, at others it will be a daytime festival, BBQ or picnic. It is up to you. You can either join an event or set one up yourself - there is a downloadable flyer with details on www.amnesty.org.au. You can also join others this Saturday at the Fremantle Markets: our "Detention Cage" is located from 6am to 5pm. To sign up for "doing time" in The Cage at the Fremantle Markets for part or all of the day, contact Amnesty's Jo Sommerville 0412 567 397 (numbers limited!)

The Field of Hearts

at the Project SafeCom stall, 6am to 5pm Sat June 19

(also Sun 20 June, see below)

supported by Oxfam and Amnesty International Australia

The Field of Hearts is a visual installation project comparable to The Sea of Hands, the project expressing support of Indigenous people. At our stall outside the Fremantle markets, you can buy a heart, joining thousands around Australia to paint or write a wish for refugees, make a drawing, glue on your picture, or write a slogan or note on it. Your heart will join tens of thousands of other hearts from around Australia in its journey to Parliament House in Canberra, where they will be placed on the lawn during the Convergence on Canberra just prior to the 2004 Federal Election. The Field of Hearts was first launched in Canberra on World Refugee Day 2003. Paint and permanent markers will be provided at our stall on this weekend.

The Deported

a documentary by Nick Danziger, Laura Ashton and Petra Graf

A unique document about forced deportations

Screenings 7:00pm & 8:30pm
a Project SafeCom fundraiser
bookings: Amnesty on (08)
9381-3200

The Deported looks at the journey of individual asylum seekers who have been rejected by countries they have struggled to reach; it exposes the sadness, disappointment, futility and tragic when refugees - one of them having travelled through Africa for more than nine months to reach France - leave everything behind and embark on hazardous journeys, only to be deported on a flight lasting just a few hours.

Tickets: $12:00 | Conc. & members $10.00
FTI Cinemas, 92 Adelaide Street, Fremantle

Keynote: Dr Carmen Lawrence MP

In an age of increasing globalisation with its free monetary exchange and free trade, the control, detention and forced deportation of asylum seekers contrasts starkly with the new freedoms of the global village - and it calls for a worldwide review and reconsideration: the global village needs to confront its deep-seated fear of the villagers....
